

Certificate Programme on Global Compact for Safe Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM)

(Online, Off-Campus)

"Learn, Act and make Change"

About the Certificate Programme

The Online Certificate Programme on Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) will cover crucial aspects of GCM in an effective, efficient and appealing way to achieve the intended outcomes. Participants will work through a structured process from identifying learning needs to understand significant aspects to evaluate migration-related policies with effectiveness. The certificate programme will provide space and time for participants to reflect, share and build on the migration experiences through intellectually-stimulated discussions based on ground realities.

Key Objectives:

- To provide an interdisciplinary and comprehensive approach for a better understanding of the various facets of migration from the grassroots to the global level.
- To learn, be informed and act as an agent of change through conversations, dialogue, knowledge sharing, campaigns and other methods.

Brief Profile of the Organisations involved in the Certificate Programme on GCM

Migrant Forum in Asia (MFA), Philippines

MFA is a regional network of non-government organisations (NGOs), associations and trade unions of migrant workers, and individual advocates in Asia who are committed to protect and promote the rights and welfare of migrant workers. It acts as a facilitator, a regional communication and coordination point between member-organisations and advocates, forging concerted action to address discriminatory laws and policies, violence against women migrants, unjust living conditions, unemployment in the homeland and other issues affecting migrant workers. Cross Regional Center for Refugees and Migrants, Lebanon

CCRM is comprised of active refugee and migrant rights organisations. CCRM works to combat racism and xenophobia, promote the rights of refugees and migrants, to unify standards and language around the rights of these categories and to be all inclusive. The Center also works to foster experience sharing, dialogue and cooperation between Civil Society Organizations in Euro-Mediterranean countries and the Arab world. The Center works to amplify the local, regional, and international advocacy work on refugees and migrants. The Center, in its mission, pays particular attention to vulnerable groups of refugees and migrants prioritising women and children. Website: <http://crossregionalcenter.org/>

Global Research Forum on Diaspora and Transnationalism, India

The Global Research Forum for Development and Transnationalism (GRFDT) is a consortium of researchers and policymakers drawn from national and international universities, institutes, and organisations. GRFDT is presently registered in India with members and partners spread across countries in the Gulf, Africa, US, Europe, Australia, and the Caribbean. GRFDT is shaping up to be the largest network of migration governance experts focusing specifically on the issues related to migration, Diaspora and transnationalism. The GRFDT works as an academic and policy think tank by engaging national and international experts, that include academicians, practitioners, policymakers and, industry experts hailing from a broad range of areas such as migration policies, transnational linkages of development, human rights, culture, gender to mention a few. Civil Society Action Committee, Switzerland

Civil Society Action Committee has consolidated itself as a membership-based global platform for collective civil society coordination and engagement for global policy and governance of migration, including advocacy and engagement with UN member states, UN agencies (particularly through the UN Network on Migration), the private sector, local authorities, and other stakeholders and partners at the global level. It has three primary objectives: timely and strategic information-sharing on global migration policy and governance; collective and coherent civil society strategising and action; and increasing and democratising access for civil society engagement at all levels of global migration policy and governance.
